AMUSEMENTS.

"A MILLIONAIRE TRAMP," TO-NIGHT.

—In laughter there is life. It is not only food for pleasure but food for the every existence. This theory is defended by scientists and physicians all over the world and we have the utmost faith in their assertions. Every time you see a fine big robust man you will find on investigation that he is a hearty laughter—on the contrary, the measly, sickly, specimens genus homo are never known to laugh heartily; whether their failure to laugh is the cause of their ailments or their ailments the cause of their failure to laugh has never been satisfactorily proven. Manager Porter will dish out to his patrons one of the most palatable doses of laugh medicine, in "A Millionaire Tramp" at the Grand to-night, so be sure and be on hand and get your share.

Sensational prices for this engagement: Dress Circle, 50c; Parquette, 35c; Balcony 25c; Gallery, 15c.

"THE STROLLERS" TUESDAY.

—One of the gems of "The Strollers," which Miss Sylva and her excellent company will produce at the Grand on Tuesday night next, is what is known as the "Flirtation Song" and Cotillion. This is said to be almost a masterpiece in beauty of melody and conception of arrangement and is far superior to anything of this nature that has been seen in comic opera for years. The music of it is sweetly pretty and it is cleverly arranged for Miss Sylva and ten young German officers and nightly receives a half dozen encores. The music is in Endlander's best vein and the arrangement of the opera and is in itself strong enough to make a success for any musical show.

MISS MARGUERITA SYLVA.

However "The Strollers" does not depend on any one number and is full of good melody and clever comedy and the company presenting it is one of both quantity and quality. The advent of "The Strollers" here will be the musical event of the year. Nothing more radiant beautiful could possibly be conceived that Miss Sylva, when she appears as the Princess in the second act, at a German mountain side resort. No pen picture could do the subject justice and the hum of conversation caused by the surprise of the audience at the marvelous picture presented for a moment almost disturbs the continuity of the play.

Miss Sylva's type of beauty is of an unusual kind yet at the same time substantial. The warmth and color in her face which her ambient eyes lend activity to, is almost indistinguishable. Miss Sylva, to those who have not seen her in a revelation, aside from her exquisite beauty she has magnetism to a marked degree and a voice of rare timbre and sweetness.

Prices for the engagement: Entire Lower Floor, $1.50. First two rows of Balcony, $1. Balance of Balcony, 75c. Gallery, 25c.

Seats may be secured at Borland's Saturday morning.

—The first automobile used on the stage of the Grand Opera House is carried by "The Strollers" company, is the dash down the mountain side, a most sensational climax is given to act two.

You will be the loser if you do not try us on your holiday goods.
